

Avril Keith's close-up underwater shot of a starfish taken just off the Ayrshire coast near Troon was the overall winner of the 2013 Ayrshire & Arran photographic competition. She told us: "I never thought any of my photos were good enough, but a friend sent me the link to the competition and 'just for fun' I sent the starfish photo in, unedited and straight out the camera, never dreaming it would get anywhere. I completely forgot I had entered until I heard I was shortlisted, and ultimately won!"

SCOTTISH DIVER is still looking for your favourite underwater images - the one's you are really proud of. Our Reader's Gallery provides you with the opportunity to submit photographs you think other divers and readers of the magazine will find interesting. If you'd like to have one of your photographs appear in SCOTTISH DIVER please email: louise@tfti.demon.co.uk.

It would be great to hear from the Scottish diving community's photographers - local shots particularly appreciated.
